OLETA ADAMS RELEASES A SONG FROM THE VAULT

Place of Peace

KANSAS CITY, KS, April 12 – “Place of Peace” is a song that Oleta Adams wrote and recorded many years ago but it was never released. On Easter Sunday, Oleta makes the song available for download and streaming.

Oleta talks on her social media pages about her decision to release this song, “Thirteen years ago I had this idea to do a Prayer album. I did, but it wasn’t released. However, as an act of love a dear friend of mine, Paul Peterson, helped me to record a few songs that I had written and “Place of Peace” is one of them. We are living in very strange times...trying to make peace with this whole situation made me think of this song. So I decided for Easter and on Easter I will release this song. I hope that you will enjoy it. I hope that it will bring comfort to those of you who have experienced a lot of hardship, in all forms. All of us have been touched in some way.”

“Place of Peace” is a perfect song for the holiday and a song of peace for these trying times. As music is oft to do, this song is meant to soothe you and lift you up. The hope is that everyone is very near their loved ones; if not, perhaps this music will bring loved ones a little bit closer.

Oleta Adams is a multi-Grammy nominee, platinum selling, Legends Award honoree at Black Music Honors and American Jazz Walk of Fame inductee.
